REAL ECONOMY.

It is worse than nonsense to buy a cheap article with which to damage more valuable property. Scouring soap is at best only a trifling expense, but with a poor and cheap article it is likely to do considerable damage to fine marble or other property.

Hail, Merry Christmas!

AND THE ONLY McNICHOLS.

McNichols is a jolly old soul;
He brings us pleasure and good cheer;
He's working at the Arctic pole.

And here he stands, this year.
Remembering children great and small,
But the old ones, too, he loves well,
He trusts to one old McNichols all.

Such luxuries and such comfort sends McNichols to us, and we are glad,
Gay "tric-a-brac" and odds and ends,
And plenty of soft, fine attire.

We are sure he keeps us in the floor,
At this expense we need not tickle;

Let us have a look at his goods,
Are dealt with squarely by McNichols.

And then prepare on Christmas Eve,

For you will be sure to find a present.

They're sure to ask when you leave:

These things are beautiful, how is it?

Well, we're sure you'll be pleased.

Not scared at bills we are approaching:

There at the end of year's end we meet.

Under the old roof, we are getting along.

Because, while buying we have saved.

An actual gain while spending money.

The old McNichols is a jolly soul,

Which may to you seem very funny.

But learn a lesson when you seek.

A jolly like him, here you'll find.

Pay down for what you get each week,

And you will not feel thankful at Christmas time.

And who will not feel thankful at Christmas time to be surrounded by long needed comforts and luxuries paid for in advance, when money is hardly more than a trifle compared to heavy bills.

There is but one chance, with

"Trade Mark"—THE ONLY McNICHOLS.

Now don't wait until everybody is ahead of you;

Give McNichols a little time and he will make you happy for life.

Even the ladies are buying "Jumbo" Furniture,

McNichols' Pictures, Mirrors, Pictures,

Bedding, Down Pillows, everything that goes to make home pleasant.

Grateful—Conforting.

CITY NEWS.

PRICE reductions on cloaks are especially in order owing to the continued mild weather, and designs have been made on Crawford's entire stock. For something very handsome those real aristocrats, faded reapers take the lead and the prices range from $10.00 to $25. Those for $25 have the whole front slightly lined with heavy satin, and those at $25 are satin-lined throughout. These are very low prices for the quality and style of wrap which have not their equal in the city, and on which you save 25 to 50 per cent. See the display in Crawford's immense show room on third floor.

THE BRIDGEWATER CHARTER.
Judge Edwards Defers Making a Decision
Until Saturday Next.

The Bridgewater Manual Training School again came up in the County Courthouse at Clayton yesterday. Contrary to general expectation Judge Edwards failed to render a decision upon the application of the school corporation for a charter for its establishment in Kirkwood, and the hearing-to-day was taken up by arguments of counsel in the case. Judge C. A. De France and Lawyer Edwards appeared for the people of Kirkwood, their argument being based upon a claim that the school corporation should have had a voice in deciding whether or not such an institution should be located in their city. John B. Davis, Geo. J. Davis and Henry B. Davis, for the Bridgewater Co., pointed out the educational value of the school, which would in time become an educational institution of national importance. At the conclusion of the arguments Judge Edwards again took the case under advisement, stating that he would render his decision next Saturday, Dec. 6. The Bridgewater lawyer was in the courtroom when the bill, recently passed by the Kirkwood Town Board and intended to prevent the establishment of the school, was introduced. The bill, which would have the town charter of Kirkwood revoked by the incoming Legislature on the ground that such an ordinance is unconstitutional and oppressive, and in violation of the town charter itself.

A WIFE-BEATER PUNISHED.
—Missouri Matters.

NEVADA, Dec. 2.—Robert Casey, charged with being the correspondent of a Sunday paper of Kansas City, and in it half-harfor wife-beating, was taken out last night by four masked men and beaten terribly. Casey says he is a regular Pinkerton detective, but it is probable that his physical condition after last night's affair will not allow him to continue in that line of work for some time at least.

DETROIT, Dec. 2.—One stretched a grapevine across a road, five miles south of town, Stephen Cartwright, a young farmer, who then drove his horses and the animal fell on him. The man was terribly hurt and will probably never regain the use of his legs.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2.—"A. Bram," has been passing forged checks on several banks, his latest victim being the Old Bank of this city.

MARSHALL, Dec. 2.—Will R. King was notified yesterday that in the matter of the divorce proceeding begun by his wife, the judge had rendered a decision in favor of the lower court by refusing to grant a divorce. The trial here last spring ended great interest in that case, but the court's decision of no value. No evidence was introduced to justly grant a divorce and the court so ruled.

A RAILROAD TO SHELBYVILLE.

The Citizens of Shelby County Request Assistance From St. Louis.

A letter has been received by Secretary Morgan of the Merchants' Exchange from the county clerk of Shelby County, stating a negotiation is in progress looking toward the construction of a railroad from Monroe City to Shelbyville, which would bring that district into close communication with St. Louis. The letter states that the citizens of the county are obliged to market their grain and live stock in Chicago. A sum of $50,000 is required to insure the completion of the road, and a sum of $10,000 is to be raised by the county. This aid from St. Louis is sought. The communication will be laid before the board of directors of the Merchants' Exchange at the next meeting.

Shoot Her Teeth Out.

Among the unclaimed "properties" at the office of a cable road in this city is a gold setting of two false teeth. They have been in the collection about two weeks, and no one has as yet called for them. Two weeks ago one of the conductors on the line noticed a lady passenger who had a false tooth and pushing aside her dress or looking through the folds her lap, as though searching for something, she had produced very little. Asked if she had lost anything she had not, but the conductor noticed she still continued to look at the cracks in the matting. That evening, on cleaning the car, he found two false teeth under the matting. The lady passenger had the false tooth in her mouth, and the car had been known to throw cars off the track and passengers off the platforms, but this is the first case recorded where it broke free out of passenger's hands.

TURF LAST SEASON.

Gunsberg Arrives to Play Steeplechase for the Slosson at Billiards—Career of the Late Stallion Norfolk—Death of a Veteran Driver—General Sporting News.

THE late August Belmont has been this year the most successful of the old-time drivers and turf men, died at his home in this city last Friday. At the time of his death he was 83 years old, but almost to the last he retained his faculties, and fell in his chair, which he was supposed to have caused his death.

McMann drove Flora Temple who in her day was the queen of the trotting turf. On the last day of her career she was beaten by famous trotter Ethan Allen, Lance, Princess, Jacony and George M. Patchen. McMann was her driver. He was a native of the Bronx, New York, and was a successful driver.

Of recent years he had raised all stock on a farm near Lexington, N. Y. A few years since he purchased in Kinsland the stallion St.
Blaise, a winner of the Derby, and with him
has been very successful. With one of St.
Blaise's sons he ran second for the rich Futurey stakes in 1889, and suffered keen disappointment in not winning. This year he was much more fortunate, for not only won the race with Potomac, another son of St. Blaise, but also ran second with the colt Master, the double victory netting him a trifle over $75,000.

Potomac also won the Redbank and Flatbush stakes, and finished third for the Jockey Club championship stakes, winning in all nearly $80,000.

McMann's record is as follows:

First race, five and a half furlongs—Grade
one, first; Edward F., second; Glimer, third.

Second race, four and a half furlongs—Fastless, first; Tom Donahue, second; Megara, third. Time, 56s.
